

*Spring
Commencement
2017*

Please be informed that all candidates for degrees, and all honors designated for degrees earned are determined according to the academic record that includes the student's last semester, which ended yesterday. Since final examinations have just been completed, the final record of transcript is not yet determined. A student's receipt of degree and the declaration of related honors must be confirmed and validated by the final transcript.

In all cases, the actual awarding of a degree by the university is subject to verification by the Registrar. Time limitations associated with commencement make such verification before this ceremony impossible. Therefore, these exercises are to be considered as ceremonial only.

A few of today's candidates made more progress than they had anticipated, and finished the requirements for the degree after the commencement program went to print. Although their names do not appear in this program, they will be announced with those of their classmates.

The views or opinions expressed by the guest speakers at this morning's commencement are their own and do not necessarily represent the views or opinions of Kutztown University.

During the Commencement ceremonies, individual names will be read. In consideration of those who follow, please refrain from applauding until names have been read for all students receiving particular degrees.

Kutztown University is accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education (MSCHE). Several of our academic programs are accredited by disciplinary accreditors. These are:

- Accreditation Association for Ambulatory Health Care (AAAHC)*
- Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB)*
- Commission on Sport Management Accreditation (COSMA)*
- Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP)*
- Council on Social Work Education (CSWE)*
- International Association of Counseling Services, Inc. (IACS)*
- National Association of Schools of Art and Design (NASAD)*
- National Association of Schools of Music (NASM)*
- National Council for Accreditation of Coaching Education (NCACE)*
- National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE)*

Special thanks to the many KU faculty, staff and students who worked together to ensure the success of this special day for the May 2017 graduates.

Speakers

Dr. HELEN HAMLET has been a professor of counselor education at KU since 2008. She is currently the chair of the Department of Counselor Education.

Dr. Hamlet has published articles addressing topics such as the role of the school counselor when working with children with chronic illness, career counseling and post-secondary transitions for students with disabilities. Most recently, she published a book entitled "School Counseling Practicum and Internship: 30 Essential Lessons."

Frequently a lecturer at the University of Pennsylvania, Dr. Hamlet is also a certified school counselor, certified school psychologist and licensed psychologist.

She holds both a bachelor's and master's degree from West Chester University, and a doctoral degree from the University of Pennsylvania.

LAUREN GELDON is graduating today with a Master of Social Work degree. Prior to her matriculation into the program, Lauren graduated from Kutztown with a Bachelor of Social Work degree.

Since her time at KU, Lauren has worked as a case worker for Lehigh Valley Hospital–Muhlenberg, assisting both patients and families transitioning and adapting to the hospital system. She is a member of the Alpha Epsilon Lambda Honor Society as a graduate student, and the Phi Alpha Honor Society as an undergraduate.

Lauren has volunteered at hospitals and organizations across the Lehigh Valley, but has also helped care for children with disabilities in Cape Haitien, Haiti.

Dr. ROLF MAYRHOFER is an associate professor of Chemistry and has been teaching at KU since 1994. His research has focused on constructing ab initio potential energy surfaces of small molecules. These surfaces provide information on the equilibrium structure, pathways of reactivity, and how energy will “flow” through these molecular systems as various modes of the molecule are excited.

Dr. Mayrhofer has been active in department, college and university committee work. He and several other faculty worked with architects to design the renovated addition to the Boehm Science facility. He has been a member of the following committees: University Tenure, General Education Assessment, General Education and two different General Education Restructuring teams.

He holds a bachelor’s degree from Bucknell University and a doctoral degree from the University of Wisconsin–Madison. Dr. Mayrhofer has also completed post-doctoral research at Emory University.

MAYA WILSON is graduating today with a Bachelor of Science degree in psychology with a concentration in clinical counseling.

During her time at Kutztown, Maya served as a member of the National Advancement of the Association of Colored People, KU chapter; provided assistance as a peer mentor in KU's Center for Academic Success and Achievement; an advisor for FRESH, a freshmen advisory organization; and as president of the Black Student Union.

After graduation, she hopes to one day apply her education and experience in psychology to conduct research, gather information and expand knowledge on mental health issues within the minority community.

Speakers

Dr. LORRI ENGSTROM has been chair of the Department of Sport Management and Leadership Studies at KU since 2011, and has been a full-time faculty member since 2000.

She has lectured, taught and assisted youth at schools across the country. Dr. Engstrom has taken this field experience in adult and adolescent physical health and translated it to research which she has presented at multiple conferences, including the Society of Health and Physical Educators (SHAPE America) national convention.

On campus, she has been a keynote speaker for the Association for Campus Events, serves on the President's Faculty Advisory Committee, the Administrative Council and has assisted with numerous events to promote undergraduate professional development and networking.

Dr. Engstrom earned her bachelor's and master's degrees from California State University–Fresno. She holds a doctoral degree from the University of Northern Colorado.

JESSICA BURNS is graduating this afternoon with a Bachelor of Arts in communication studies with minors in public relations, professional writing, digital communication and new media, and women's and gender studies.

During her time at KU, Jessica has been involved as a student leader with freshman orientation program, Connections; captain of the KU Dance Team; and a student-athlete on the women's tennis team. She is a founding sister of the Zeta Gamma chapter of Delta Phi Epsilon Sorority, and is currently a member of both the Gamma Sigma Alpha and Lambda Pi Eta National Honor Societies.

After graduation, Jessica will be pursuing a master's degree in public communication with hopes of one day becoming a college professor.

Honor Societies

Kutztown University recognizes the academic achievements of its students through a variety of honor societies that promote academic achievement and leadership. Among these are:

Alpha Beta Alpha: An honor society dedicated to serving library science majors, to further the professional knowledge of its members, to promote fellowship, and to recruit librarians. The society maintains an abiding interest in librarianship, to acquire a true professional spirit and a deep sense of responsibility to the profession, and to seek a sincere, sympathetic, and full understanding of the work and problems of human beings.

Alpha Epsilon Lambda: An honor society for graduate and professional school students. Selection is based on commitment to academic excellence, leadership, and outreach endeavors. Members of this society wear a silver insignia featuring the Greek letters AEA and scarlet and gray cords as part of their academic regalia.

Alpha Epsilon Rho: An honor society for students in electronic media. Members demonstrate superior scholarship and creative participation in broadcast and corporate production and activity. Candidates must be in the upper third of their class, with a GPA of 3.25 both overall and in their major. Members wear green and gold cords as part of their academic regalia.

Alpha Kappa Delta: An honor society for students in sociology. Members wear teal, double-twined cords as part of their academic regalia.

Alpha Phi Sigma: An honor society for students with a major or minor in criminal justice. Students must achieve a 3.2 GPA in criminal justice courses and a 3.2 GPA overall. Members wear blue and gold cords, a royal blue medallion, and/or a gold stole as part of their academic regalia.

Alpha Sigma Lambda: An honor society that celebrates the scholarship and leadership of full- and part-time adult students in higher education. Members wear maroon and gold cords as part of their academic regalia.

Chi Alpha Epsilon: An honor society for students who participate in developmental programs, including Act 101 and Student Support Services. In order to be eligible for induction into Chi Alpha Epsilon, a student must earn a minimum grade point average of 3.0 for at least two consecutive semesters. Members wear blue and white cords as part of their academic regalia.

Delta Alpha Pi: An honor society for students with disabilities that facilitates the development of leadership and advocacy skills. Membership is open to undergraduate students who have completed a minimum of 24 credits and achieved a cumulative GPA of 3.1. Graduate students must have completed a minimum of 18 credits and achieved a cumulative GPA of 3.3. Members wear blue and gold cords as part of their academic regalia.

Delta Phi Alpha: An honor society that seeks to recognize excellence in the study of German. The society aims to promote the study of the German language, literature, and civilization and endeavors to emphasize those aspects of German life and culture which are of universal value and which contribute to the eternal search for peace and truth.

Gamma Theta Upsilon: A geographical honor society in which students must have an overall GPA of 3.3 or better with at least three Geography courses and a GPA of 3.3 or better in Geography, and at least 36 completed semester hours. Members wear three cords (blue, gold, and brown) which represent the colors of Gamma Theta Upsilon.

Kappa Delta Pi: An honor society that recognizes students of exceptional ability and achievement studying in all fields of education. Members wear green and purple cords as part of their academic regalia.

Kappa Mu Epsilon: An honor society for students who have maintained standards of scholarship, have professional merit, and have attained academic distinction in mathematics and other closely related fields. Members wear a pin as part of their academic regalia.

Lambda Pi Eta: An honor society for students in communication studies who have completed 60 credits, have a GPA of 3.0 overall, and a 3.25 GPA in the major. Members wear gold cords as part of their academic regalia.

Phi Alpha: An honor society for students in social work who have a GPA of 3.0 overall and a 3.25 GPA in the major. Members wear blue and gold cords as part of their academic regalia.

Phi Alpha Theta: An honor society for students in history who have a minimum GPA of 3.0. Members wear red sashes with the Phi Alpha Theta insignia as part of their academic regalia.

Phi Beta Delta: An honor society dedicated to recognizing scholarly achievement in international education. International or domestic students must demonstrate high scholastic achievement in the pursuit of academic studies. Members wear a medallion with a red and gold ribbon as part of their academic regalia.

Phi Kappa Phi: A selective honor society for all academic disciplines that recognizes outstanding achievement in all fields of higher education. Members wear a medallion on a blue ribbon as part of their academic regalia.

Pi Sigma Alpha: An honor society for students in political science and public administration. Students who meet the grade and course requirements are invited to membership during the spring semester of each academic year. Members wear a white enamel medallion with Pi Sigma Alpha in black, trimmed in gold on a red cord. Members wear white and red cords as part of their academic regalia.

Psi Chi: An honor society for students in psychology who have a GPA of 3.33 overall. Members wear white and blue cords as part of their academic regalia.

Sigma Delta Pi: An honor society for students in Spanish that promotes cultural activities on Hispanic themes and diversity among students, faculty, and the surrounding community.

Sigma Pi Sigma: An honor society dedicated to recognizing outstanding scholarly achievement in physics. Members wear green and white cords as part of their academic regalia.

Sigma Tau Delta: An honor society in English that recognizes distinctive achievement, fosters the discipline, and promotes interest in the English language and literature. Members wear crimson and black cords as part of their academic regalia.

Honors

Honors designations for the purposes of the commencement ceremony are determined according to the academic record exclusive of the last semester of attendance. Students who have achieved a cumulative grade point average of 3.40 or higher at the time they obtain their cap and gown will be provided an honors medallion as part of their regalia to be worn during the ceremony. Students who have been approved to participate in the commencement ceremony prior to this program going to press, will also have the honors designated in the program. Students who achieve the honors designation following the completion of the current semester are recognized through a notation on the diploma and their official transcript.

The following cumulative quality point averages must be earned to achieve graduation with honors: cum laude 3.40, magna cum laude 3.60 and summa cum laude 3.80. Latin, the medieval language of scholars, is still used on the commencement program to keep with tradition in designating honors.

- * Cum laude — with honor
-  Magna cum laude — with high honor
-  Summa cum laude — with highest honor

A NOTE ON ACADEMIC COSTUME

Academic regalia worn at American college exercises today goes back in its essential features to the middle ages. The oldest universities of northern Europe, such as Paris and Oxford, grew out of church schools, hence they wore clerical garb largely borrowed from the monastic dress of their day.

The head covering was developed out of the skullcap worn by the clergy in cold weather. In the universities this skullcap acquired a point on top that gradually evolved into a tassel. In this country it has been replaced by the familiar mortarboard, which still however, retains the medieval tassel.

The gown worn today is the medieval roba and seems to have been borrowed from the habit of the Benedictine monks. Bachelors and masters could be distinguished by the simplicity or elaborateness of their gowns – the masters' gowns were often furred – and this survives today in the ornamentation found on doctoral gowns. The wide velvet borders extending down the front of the doctoral gown, the velvet chevrons on the lined bell sleeves, and the borders of most hoods, are in the color of the scholarly field of the wearer.

The hood (the medieval caputium) was originally worn over the head, and otherwise dropped onto the shoulders like a cowl. Master's degree holders wear distinctively colored hoods that signify the wearer's degree. The most common of these seen in the procession are:

Arts, Letters and Humanities	White	Music.....	Pink
Business	Drab	Nursing.....	Peach
Criminal Justice	Midnight Blue	Oratory (Speech).....	Silver Grey
Economics	Copper	Philosophy.....	Dark Blue
Education	Light Blue	Physical Education	Sage Green
Engineering	Orange	Public Health.....	Salmon Pink
Fine Arts.....	Brown	Public Administration	Peacock Blue
Journalism	Crimson	Science	Gold
Law	Purple	Social Science	Cream
Library Science	Lemon	Social Work.....	Citron
Medicine	Green	Theology	Scarlet

University Symbols

The university mace, used almost exclusively at commencement exercises or other formal, ceremonial functions, is a decorative version of the weapon of the same name used in the Middle Ages, and represents the authority of the university. The new KUTZTOWN UNIVERSITY MACE was designed by Stephen Culberson '16, a crafts major, at the request of the KU Student Government Board, and was presented to the president as a gift on behalf of all students.

The mace is made of walnut from a tree that existed on Culberson's grandfather's farm. The lathe work was performed by Culberson. The date noted on the mace represents the year in which the university originally received its charter and the year of the university's Sesquicentennial celebration. The crowning element atop the mace is the "keystone," which was used in the original Keystone State Normal School official seal.

Since the inception of the university, the mace has traditionally been carried by a grand marshal at official university ceremonies. The honor of grand marshal is bestowed by the president, and usually is a tenured faculty member who has attained the greatest seniority.

Presidential Medallions have served for centuries as remembrances of specific events or to recognize meritorious service or conduct. Medallions have also been used and worn to indicate leadership and authority.

The KUTZTOWN UNIVERSITY PRESIDENTIAL MEDALLION is worn by the university president with academic regalia at formal functions such as commencement. The medallion serves to identify the university president as the leader of a community of scholars.

The design elements of the new presidential medallion incorporate recognition of achieving university status and display the commonwealth seal.

On the chain supporting the medallion are the names of all who have served the institution as either principal or president. Additionally, all preceding names of the institution – Keystone State Normal School, Kutztown State Teachers College and Kutztown State College – as well as drawings of the university's most historic buildings, are engraved.

Alma Mater

Where stately trees are bending
Where nature's glories shine,
And loveliness unending
In beauty rare combine,
There rise the Kutztown towers,
And there the college stands,
The wellspring of our powers,
The shrine our love commands.

And we will ever love her
And live to spread her fame;
Our lives shall add new lustre
Unto her glorious name.
As guardians of her new day
Our work will ever be
To labor so that she may
Achieve her destiny.

– Clyde Francis Lytle
